

Extra Days Not Needed For SAD 29

Schools in SAD 29, comprising of Houlton, Hammond, Littleton, Monticello, and St. Mary's will not need to make up the two days added to the harvest recess.

According to Hamilton Giberson, superintendent of SAD 29, it will not be necessary to schedule additional days due to provisions within the school calendar that allowed for the possibility of losing two days due to storms. It would be necessary to add these days in the event that storms force postponement of classes during the 1969-70 school year, Giberson said.

Superintendent Giberson stated that the two additional days were granted following a poll of the directors of SAD 29. Their decision was based on a number of calls received requesting the additional time in order to help complete the harvest of the 1969 potato crop.

NOTICE TO DISSENTERS, MARCHERS, PROTESTERS, ETC

The following was a hand-written statement on the door of a local shop this week, along with a portrait, in uniform, of the serviceman in question. "Hi, I'm Lewis B. Albert, better known as Buddy Oliver. I'm 21 years and 10 days old. I was killed in Da Nang, Viet Nam, in the line of duty, while in the service of Our Country, October 8, 1969. I enlisted in the Marines with full knowledge of what was ahead of me. I wore my uniform proudly. I was happy in doing what I felt I had to do. I was a Christian and a member of the Amity Baptist Church. I lived a good life, the battle has been won. Please don't feel sorry for me; I am safe now. Please pray for all my buddies I've just left behind, and all the generations of young men to come, who will follow me in the service of their Country and God.

LETTER RECEIVED Since Lane Construction Co., has finished the hot-topping on most of the residential streets in town, the town crews have taken on the task of filling in the curbs where there was a drop-off. They go along the side of the street and dump loads of sand and then the grader smooths it down. When the grader has finished its job there is dirt across the entire surface of the street. Now then, why would it not be practical to bring the town sweeper along and clean the street off? No, they leave the dirt there and for a month afterwards the beautiful and expensive hot top is covered and again we have dust just as we had before.

LETTER RECEIVED I am writing to you in regard to a man I had known for 10 years, who passed away here in Connecticut September 5. His name was Otto Lockner (Porky) and he told me that he was brought up in Houlton by his grandparents. He was also married there, which ended in divorce. There were two children ... his daughter's name was Norma and his son's name was John. He told me that he owned a cabin there on a lake, somewhere near a skating rink. Is there any way that you can help me find his family? I can't seem to locate any of them. I claimed his body and he is buried in New Haven. I was his fiancé. Please do all you can to help me find any information on Porky, and his relatives.

COFFEE SHOP PROGRESSING? A couple of high school boys have contacted me in regard to the possibility of a teen-age coffee shop which was discussed in the Column a couple of weeks ago. These two fellows are willing to go ahead with the idea but would like to feel that they have backing. Come on kids, let's get this rolling so there will be a place to hang-out for your age group during the winter months. Contact me, huh? You too, adults, the kids could use some help.

Business District Traffic Pattern Changes Presented

Four alternatives for conducting traffic in Market Square were presented Monday evening to the Houlton Town Council at the regular Council meeting. The proposals were prepared by the Maine State Highway Department following a study of the current traffic pattern.

One of the four alternatives is now under construction. Town crews are in the process of opening an artery for left hand turns at the east end of the traffic island in the center of Market Square. This will allow cars to make a left turn towards the Trust Company without taking a wide swing out into the traffic intersecting from Water, Main and Court streets.

Two of the four alternatives would provide for two way traffic on the south side of Market Square with one way traffic heading either east or west on the north side of the square. Traffic would be two way entering the square from the Union Square rotary and heading east with the west bound traffic entering the lane by the Rod and Gun Shop at the intersection of Market Square and Court street. Parking would be eliminated along the center island. Diagonal parking would be permitted facing the stores on that side of the street.

Both of these alternatives would allow for either east or west bound traffic on the north side of the square starting at either the Army & Navy store or at the Houlton Trust Company, depending on which plan was acceptable. Diagonal parking would be permitted in this area.

The fourth alternative would be to allow the present traffic pattern to continue.

The plans for the various patterns are now under study by members of the Council. Council can at anytime try a 90 day experimental period to observe the proposed changes. In the event that one of the plans is acceptable, an ordinance to that effect would have to be passed.

Executive Will Bypass Houlton

Houlton will not be among the communities that will be serviced by Executive Airlines according to recent plans announced by James Westhall of Boston, special assistant to Executive's president.

The possibility of scheduling Houlton's International Airport as a stop for Executive was clearly postponed for further consideration as officials of the airlines announced their plans for extending service throughout Maine.

A spokesman for Executive told the Presque Isle Star Herald, a weekly newspaper, that three daily flights soon will connect Presque Isle with Bangor, Augusta, Portland and Boston if a proposal by Executive Airlines materializes.

The decision hangs on a Civil Aeronautics Board ruling regarding realignment that would allow Northeast Airlines to suspend flights to Augusta and Lewiston. Flight operations would begin in a matter of weeks, according to Westhall, once a ruling is made.

The airline, which currently provides service in Portland, Waterville, Augusta and seasonally in Rockland and Bar Harbor, will fly 20-passenger twin Otters.

The flights originating in Boston would terminate at Presque Isle, with stops at Portland, Augusta and Bangor.

Charges Against Police Department Are Made By Two Members Of Council

What apparently was becoming a regular marathon meeting Monday evening of the Houlton Town Council suddenly erupted into a barrage of charges and accusations directed at the Houlton Police Department and Chief Donald Dow.

The meeting, in its fourth hour, suddenly changed in tenor from a routine handling of business into a tirade of charges against the local police force. Supplying the accusations were Council members Owen Hannigan and Lawrence Roach.

The previously smooth business session was well into the closing minutes of a lengthy agenda when complaints against the activities of the department were introduced by Councilman Hannigan.

The opening statements of Councilman Hannigan charged the police department with deliberately harassing both a former police officer and his family. Hannigan's charges indicated that he had been informed that the department had been checking into the employment of the former officer and was going to the extremes of following him with a police cruiser.

Councilman Hannigan went on to say that he had received numerous complaints concerning the police department and that, "some of the things going on should be investigated and proper action taken." Hannigan then charged that, "the police department should undergo a thorough investigation, if necessary, by an outside investigator."

Councilman Lawrence Roach added, "I have had complaints that they are not on the job." He went on to say that as far as he was concerned the police force was operating as, "office boys just keeping statistics."

A discussion of just what an investigation of the police department would offer followed, with Council chairman Gerald Gardner offering the suggestion that the establishment of a police commission to investigate the situation might be called for and he further added that as far as he was concerned, he felt that this was also the wish of Chief Dow.

Statements made throughout the last hour of the

Local Firms Consolidate

The Duran Oil Company and Canusa, Inc., Houlton's local distributors of Citgo petroleum products, have announced their agreement to consolidate into one company.

The Duran Oil Company will continue to operate as a separate entity under the management of John Duran, while Canusa, Inc., will develop and operate a truck stop and restaurant on the Airport road, under the management of Robert Hazelwood.

meeting ranged from comments concerning the activities of Chief Dow and the force. At one time Councilman Hannigan referred to the "devious methods of Chief Dow." He also commented that he certainly did not want any investigation of the force to be a "white-wash."

Council member Jean Larson stated that as far as her experience was concerned, she was perfectly satisfied with activities of the police force referring to the fact that many evenings while closing her local business, she had observed police officers patrolling the business area any time between 10 and 11 p.m. on a regular basis.

Council chairman Gardner brought the discussion to a head when he directed a request to Councilman Hannigan seeking to hear a concrete motion on the matter so that action could be taken.

Councilman Hannigan replied in effect that the Council should study the situation and take action on the matter at the next regular meeting of the Council.

The earlier hours of the Council meeting had been directed towards normal business matters that included the licensing of junk yards. Applications for the operation of junk yards were granted to Earl McCluskey, Bangor road; Tingley Brothers, North road; George Devoe, "B" road; Robert Suttler, Hollywood road; and Philip Adler, Bangor street.

A permit to operate a junk yard was refused to Crawford's Auto Mart, North road due to inadequate screening of the premises. Council also directed the police department to advise Robert Suttler that his service station operated on Main street was in violation of the act regulating junk yards and that he would have to comply with the law.

Attending the hearings on these applications were Henry Elliot of the Maine State Highway Department and Sgt. Paul Gentle of the Houlton Police Department.

Contract for the removal of trees with Dutch elm disease was awarded to the firm of R. D. McGreagr, Inc. with a bid of $45 per tree including taking down and cutting into sections for town crews to remove. The only other bidder was the firm of Thompson Tree Service with a high bid of $83 per tree.

It was noted by Town Manager Arthur Curtis that there was $5,000 left in Town and State funds to continue the project of removing the diseased trees during 1969.

Appointed to the planning board were Rodney Palmer and Virginia Hiltz, alternate. Council also decided to ask the board to offer the name of an other alternate.

Eugene Hare, Glenn Tidd and Floyd Brewer were appointed as constables. Council appointed these men who are employed by the Town at the dump in order that they can enforce compliance with the ordinances regulating the (Please Turn To Page 2)

Loring Delegation Boosts Maine In SAC Competition

by Marshall Hammond

FAIRCHILD AFB, WASH. - While the bombing competition was the chief concern at Fairchild Air Force Base near Spokane this past week, there was considerable interest generated by the special booths that each of the competing Wings erected. And the booth of Loring Air Force Base and its 42nd Bomb Wing had to be among the most outstanding, if not the finest one here.

Erected by the support crew, under the supervision of Lt. Col. David Howell and Capt. Joseph Grobstein, the booth looked like an out-and-out chamber of commerce promotion rather than an effort of the Air Force. This Co. Howell explained, was exactly the intention.

The 42nd Bomb Wing chose to promote its area, and did a most effective job through the booth. Many of the other booths erected by different Air Force bases also followed this theme of area promotion.

Work on the booth started shortly after the support crew arrived here from Loring aboard a KC-135 at 5 p.m., Pacific time, Sunday, October 5. The support crew, as was the flight crew that arrived Monday afternoon aboard the B-52, was here for the 1969 Strategic Air Command Bomb Competition, the "World Series of Bombing".

The front of the one-room booth was covered by the Loring crew with cedar to give it a rustic, cabin appearance. Over the doorway were mounted moose antlers, and on top of the booth was a canoe. Also decorating the outside of the booth as a large sportsman's map of Maine, framed in part by a pair of snowshoes.

Lined up in front of the booth were 10-pound sacks of Maine potatoes, and near the doorway were two .50-pound bags of potatoes and a potato barrel, filled with small bags of "King Cole" potato chips. The potato chips were for free distribution to those who visited the booth, and the visitors were many.

The floor of the booth was covered with a gold-colored rug, and several photographs of Loring, and maps of Maine adorned the walls. One corner of the booth was also finished in cedar, and here were displayed stuffed animals and mounted fish that are typical of the State. The ceiling of each booth was a multi-colored parachute.

A feature in the booth was a lobster trap, and in the trap was "Reddy", a stuffed fish that served as mascot for the Loring crew.

Inside the booth were several tables, four large overstuffed leather chairs, and a table lamp.

All of the equipment used in preparing the booth was brought to Fairchild AFB by the Loring crew aboard the KC-135, with the exception of "Reddy", who made the trip across the country on the B-52 with the Col. Howell explained, was exactly the (Please Turn To Page 2)

MAINE POTATOES GO WEST - Not to be out-done by Brenda Baker, Lt. Col. Executive Will

Flight time from Boston to Presque Isle will take three hours and 10 minutes, according to Westhall. Weekend flights would be reduced to two.

The exclusion of Houlton from the proposed schedule was confirmed by officials of the airlines in discussions last week with Richard Biegener, executive director of the Houlton Regional Development Corporation.

Biegener said that Executive officials stated that they would reconsider a Houlton stop in the event that a daily load of approximately 10 passengers could be generated at Houlton. They further added that the airlines would realign their scheduling in the spring as they would use most of the winter in testing the Presque Isle market.

It was also noted by Biegener that a Canadian airline was still interested in the possibility of using the Houlton International Airport as a terminal to offer flights into the United States. He added that an arrangement between the two airlines might more than make up the number of passengers needed to establish Houlton as a regular flight stop.

The University of Maine Theatre season will open Tuesday, October 21, with the production of "Noah," directed by Prof. Herschel Bricker, to whom the Maine Masque has dedicated its 64th season. Philip Wallace was appointed as a member of the Civil Defense Police.

Reports on the activities of the public works department, ambulance service, Town nurse, health and welfare, police department and civil defense were distributed to Council members.

A report on the hot-topping program indicated that with favorable weather, the streets should be completed by October 14 and that the hot-topping operation should move into Market Square on October 15. It was also noted that the use of hot-top was apparently running some 500 tons under original estimates to have the streets covered.

Town Manager Curtis commented that residents on the streets that had been topped should be careful of burning leaves on the new paving as the fires could damage the hot-topping.

The meeting, which was called into session by chairman Gardner at 7:20 p.m., was over at 1 a.m.

Loring Boosts

The Loring crew, also given some invaluable assistance with their project by Lt. Col. Carl Gjelhaug (cq), worked well into the night Sunday to complete their booth, and have it in readiness by the time Wing Commander Col. Eugene L. Hudson and the bomb crew arrived Monday.

Some of the other booths erected by the 24 Air Force Bases and three RAF units, that competed here in the bomb competition were also outstanding. Among the better ones were those of the 97th Bomb Wing from Blytheville AFB, Arkansas, the 2nd Bomb Wing from Barksdale AFB, Louisiana, the 93rd Bomb Wing from Castle AFB, California, and 449th Bomb Wing from Kincheloe AFB, Michigan.

The 97th Bomb Wing from Arkansas centered its entire booth around the outside of the booth was a large sportsman's map of Maine, framed in floor was covered with burlap, and on display was cotton in all of its periods of growth right through to the final bale. Available to visitors were free cotton seeds. The Wing termed its competition aircraft the Cotton Boll Express.

Castle AFB finished the exterior of its booth as a castle, and inside displayed the many agricultural items that are grown in its area of California. The 449th booth featured the 500 mile snowmobile classic that is to be held in its area of Michigan, and the booth of the 2nd Bomb Wing stuffed animals and mounted fish that are typical of the State. The featured a stuffed pelican.

But it was still the log cabin booth of Loring's 42nd Bomb Wing that had to be termed truly outstanding.

Potato Shipment Of 95 Cars Will Go To Uruguay

A shipment of 95 cars of Aroostook County potatoes will be loaded on shipboard at Searsport today, tomorrow and Friday for shipment to Montevideo, Uruguay. The chartered ship was due in Searsport October 14.

The shipment was arranged by Jack Roth, president of Beaver Brook Export Corp., a subsidiary of Dead River Co., Bangor. The 95 cars will carry 48,000 bags, or about 2,400 tons of potatoes.

In May, 1968, Roth was instrumental in arranging a similar shipment which, at that time, helped offset a market slump.

Involved in the transaction are the Export Marketing Service and the Foreign Agricultural Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The two services are responsible for the administration of Public Law 480 which supports such foreign sales of American agricultural products.

The Uruguan Embassy in Washington, with the assistance of Charrier, McAtter and Fetting as agents, are handling the details for the Uruguan government. The actual contract is with the Ministry of Industry and Trade of the Republic of Uruguay.

The Maine Potato Council also supported arrangements for the transaction.

Ricker First As Student, Faculty Member On Board

Dr. Raymond M. Sylvester was elected to the board of trustees of Ricker College at the meeting of the Faculty Association Tuesday. With this action, Ricker became the first college in the northeast to have both a faculty member and a student on the board of trustees.

Election of a faculty member to the board was voted by the trustees at their annual meeting on May 31. The faculty member is elected to a one-year term, and he cannot succeed himself. Dr. Sylvester is an instructor in chemistry.

The board also voted the automatic election of the president of the Student Senate as a trustee for his term of office. Unlike many other college student trustee plans which have a student for a full term and consequently long after he is a student, Ricker's board will always include a student. Robert Lehmann of Huntington Station, N. Y., a senior psychology major, is the student trustee this year.

Dr. Sylvester and Lehmann will attend their first meeting as trustees of Ricker College on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. They will be full voting members of the board except for the period of executive session. Their election brings the membership of the board to 29.

Ricker's president, C. Worth Howard, pointed out that, while these two trustees will not be acting as representatives of their respective bodies, they will bring to the board viewpoints that should be considered. He explained that the standing committees of the board already have some dialogue with students appointed to meet with them prior to the regular board meetings.

Dr. Sylvester is in his third year of teaching at Ricker. He received his B. S. degree in chemistry from Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Ill., and his Ph. D. in chemistry from Washington State.

University in Pullman, Wash. in 1963.

Prior to coming to Ricker College, he was an assistant professor in chemistry at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan.

Dr. Sylvester is a member of chemical major honorary societies, Alpha Chi Sigma and Phi Lambda Upsilon.

Rush-Embregts Nuptials At Quebec, September 20

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP RUSH
(Miss Nancy Embregts)

St. Patrick's Church, Quebec City, was the scene Saturday, September 20, of the wedding of Miss Nancy Embregts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Embregts of that city to Philip Rush, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rush of Houlton.

The Rev. Clark McAulay, C.S.S.R. officiated. Baskets of yellow and white gladioli decorated the chancel of the church and the family pews were marked with sprays of the same flowers.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her brother, John Embregts of Halifax, N. S., wore a princess style gown of Soie Ligado with elbow length sleeves and full length matching sleeveless coat of the same silk. The hem of her gown was trimmed with silk carnations evenly spaced and her veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a single white carnation. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations tied with long yellow velvet ribbons.

The Northern Maine Board of Approved Soccer Officials will hold their third annual clinic for prospective soccer officials during October and November.

The clinics will be held at two locations this fall: Aroostook State College and Madawaska High School. Five sessions are scheduled with the first meeting on Wednesday, October 15 at 7 p. m. The remaining sessions will be held on October 22, 29, November 5 and 12. Instructors for the clinics are Peter Gillespie at Aroostook State College and Donald Arnold at Madawaska High School.

These clinics are open to anyone who is 18 years of age or older.

Interested persons should contact Robert White at 20 Hoover Avenue, Caribou or register at the first clinic.

Snowsled Races Set For Sunday

Approximately 100 sleds are expected to participate in snowmobile drag races sponsored by the Houlton Lodge of Elks this Sunday. The races will be held on the County road on property owned by former Houlton resident, Dr. Eugene Gamble, just beyond the intersection of the Porter Settlement road.

Registration of competing sleds is set for 10:30 a. m. while the racing will get underway at 1:30 p. m.

Contestants are expected from Fort Fairfield, Caribou, Presque Isle and Millinocket as well as many local entries. Sleds with speeds up to 90 m.p.h. are expected to compete.

Competition will be held for two classes of sleds, modified for racing models and stock class for weekend sled-ders.

Ricker Soccer Teams Will Face Strongest Opponents

"Although our record is 7-1, we still haven't played Husson or Aroostook State and they both have strong teams," Ricker College coach, Allan Wilson, said Monday in reflecting on the soccer season so far.

"It's anybody's guess right now who will win the Northeast College Conference," he added.

Ricker plays its first game with Husson Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. in Bangor and the return game in Houlton on the 21st. Aroostook State plays at Houlton on the 17th and hosts the Bulldogs on the 28th.

Assessing his team at mid-season, Wilson said that the Ricker team has "more talent this year than ever before. Skip Harwood always turns in a fine performance, and until he injured his leg, Bob Shea was our main defense." Shea was hurt earlier in the season but has returned to the playing field. He and Harwood are co-captains of the team.

"Mohamed Abdulmannan has done an outstanding job," Wilson continued, "and Tim Diehl has shown amazing progress on defense. Skip Meeker is one of the best goalies around."

The soccer coach said he has a lot of talent among the freshmen. "Todd Zuzulo and Alex Zenerovitz have played great ball for us, and they're getting stronger all the time. Bob Shea is the only senior on the squad, so with this young talent our prospects look bright for the next few years."

Wilson observed that there is a lot of enthusiasm and interest, both among the players and the spectators. He said, "I notice that more townspeople too are coming out to watch the games." Local games are played at Bob Ruth Field.

Asked how injuries have affected the team, Wilson said, "Actually, injuries from soccer are much less severe than those from football. Bruises and sprains are fairly common, but there are seldom any broken bones. You almost never hear of a case of torn cartilage from soccer, and this is a common football injury that gives permanent trouble."

"Bob Shea's injury had nothing to do with soccer. Bill Tronolone did suffer a pinched nerve in his back, but he's okay now."

Ricker hosted the first invitational soccer tournament in the area this fall, and Wilson explained, "There is a lot of enthusiasm about continuing the tournament. Right now we're thinking about the possibility of combining it with a clinic for coaches and players from schools in this region."

FIRST-YEAR MAN - Alex Zenerovitz of Boonton, N.J., is developing into one of the best halfbacks in Northeast College Conference Soccer, according to Coach Allan Wilson. Zenerovitz, a freshman at Ricker College, is one of the talented first year men who have contributed to the Bulldogs' 7-1 record at mid-season.

Search - Rescue Unit To Discuss Snowsled Teams

The annual meeting of the Houlton Civil Defense Search and Rescue unit will be held Tuesday evening at the Gentle Memorial Building when two short films on search and rescue will be shown. Police Chief Donald Dow will be the guest speaker.

An important item on the agenda will be discussion of snowmobile teams to work with the group, the Sheriff's Department, Warden's Division and the Houlton Ambulance Service. Interested persons with snowsleds who would like to assist in the very essential area of tracking down persons missing on snowsleds, are urged to attend this meeting. Further information on this matter can be obtained by contacting Willis Grimm or Clyde Hiltz at 532-2331.

Chief Clarence Rairdon of the Search and Rescue unit has announced that new State of Maine CD official vehicle stickers will be issued at this meeting and he suggests that all persons that have filled out applications in the last three years, attend with an interested friend. Women are also needed to work on the feeding van, which is a fully equipped kitchen on wheels.

Special invitations have been extended to Town Manager Arthur Curtis, Sheriff Darrell Randall, Chief of Warden Division Virgil Grant, Town Civil Defense Director Willis Grimm, former CD director George McGillicuddy and Civil Defense Auxiliary Police Chief Clyde Hiltz.

Brother Of Local Fish & Game Warden Is Honored

Young Gary L. Pelletier of Hermon has many distinctions. First he is one of five children of Leonard J. and Mary Dufour Pelletier of St. Francis, second, he is a son of a Maine Inland Fisheries and Game Department Warden; third, his uncle Maynard of Caribou is a warden; fourth, his brother Leonard J. Jr. of Enfield, is a warden; fifth, his brother Roland of Houlton is a warden; sixth, Gary himself is a warden; seventh, he is responsible for a record fishing fine of $696.

And eighth, he is the holder of the coveted Meritorious Service Medal, only the second such award to be made since the creation of the Department's Awards Board. It is the second highest award in the Warden Service.

The award was given to Pelletier for "...service rendered above the ordinary course of duty, in which a warden, because of his initiative, courage, and diligence, performs an unusual task whereby a life is saved, a crime prevented or a violator apprehended."

However, it took a man-size helping of Lady Luck for Pelletier to be around to wear the pin.

It happened about this way: Pelletier was on his way home in the dark hours of November 8, 1968, after working the night with fellow warden David L. Mercier of Orrington. A little snow had fallen. Going along Route 202 just outside of Bangor, he noticed tire tracks going into a side road. The warden backed his car to the mouth of the road, saw a car, and started to investigate. As a good officer would, he inquired of the two occupants of the car what they were doing.

Just about then, one of them snapped on the headlights revealing a second car further along the road with a man standing by the trunk. As he approached the third man, the fellow ducked his head into the car, came back out, and after a few choice expletives, brandished what turned out to be a mighty powerful .357 Magnum revolver.

The man pointed the weapon directly at Pelletier at short range, cocked it...CLICK...no action. Pelletier

Ricker Downs Thomas

The Ricker booters continued to play superb ball by defeating Thomas College Saturday afternoon 10-1.

The Bulldogs dominated the entire match scoring throughout the game. Ricker's Mohamed Abdulman and Bob Readie each collected two goals for the victory. Collecting one goal apiece for the Bulldogs were Tim Diehl, Alexander Zenerovitz, Skip Harwood, Ed Gusman, John Sullivan and Bill Wales.

The Bulldogs held Thomas scoreless until ten minutes into the final period when Dave Clement scored on a penalty kick.

Ricker travels to Bangor Wednesday to encounter an afternoon match with the Husson Braves. Friday night the Bulldogs will play host to Aroostook State in an important NCC match.

Snowmobilers Must Submit Tax Receipt

Maine snowmobile owners seeking to register their machines are overlooking one requirement that is causing delay in the process.

Lorenzo J. Gaudreau, managing the registration office for the Fish and Game Dept., says that a good many people are forgetting to send the sales tax purchase certificate with their applications for registration.

At this time of year, this omission causes only a few days delay while the materials are mailed back to the applicant who must then return them with the required certificate.

But when snow comes and the registration office is swamped with applications, the delay could immobilize snow machines for two weeks or more. And a lot of good snow could go unused because of an oversight.

As with automobiles, registering early is the way to beat the rush. And sending all materials necessary for registration is the way to get the job done quickly.

Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 days on Grapefruit Diet

—This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U. S.

Because this diet really works. We have testimonials reporting on its success. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. No weight loss in the first four days but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there will be no hunger pangs. Revised and enlarged, this diet lets you stuff yourself with formerly "forbidden" foods, such as steaks, fried chicken, gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs and still lose weight. The secret behind this "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger"), to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. A copy of this startling successful diet can be obtained by sending $3 to:

Gulf Co.
P. O. Box 524
Lincoln, Nebraska

Money-back guarantee. If after trying the diet you have not lost 7 pounds in the first seven days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days, thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $3 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth.

hailed for storage. At the place of storage, again the forklift takes over stacking the pallets, sometimes five high, to await shipment. With this highly mechanized process, the potatoes are hardly touched by human hands and, with the minimum amount of handling, bruising should be reduced considerably. (Pioneer Times Photo)

Narcotics Film Will Be Shown At Local Church

"Youth In A Fix" is a revealing, inside look at the unusual ministry of Teen Challenge. Filmed in the dark corners of New York City, "Youth In A Fix" takes the viewer into the work of gangs, drug addicts, and beatniks, into the almost unbelievable horror of a shooting gallery where drug addicts stick dirty needles into their veins just to get high, into the perverted world of Greenwich Village where promiscuous sex and perversion are the accepted way of life, into the frightful world of rebellious teen-agers who like cops as long as they never see one.

But "Youth In A Fix" does far more than merely depict the sordidness of these underworlds; it carries a message of the Cross to the people of the Switchblade. The viewer will see how the work of Teen Challenge has telescoped from a small one-building center to a complex which includes six buildings in Brooklyn, two mansions in upstate New York and a farm in Rehoboth, Pa. Teen Challenge does not measure its success by buildings, however; and "Youth In A Fix" will bring you in touch with many of the people whose lives have been transformed by God Himself when they heard the Gospel message from a Teen Challenge worker.

The film sponsored by the Al Crocker Evangelistic Association will be shown at the Military Street Baptist Church 7:30 p. m., October 21, 1969. The public is invited.

Hunter Check Stations To Be Operated By F&G Dept.

Hunter motivation and how it relates to hunting pressure and success is the aim of a new program to be instituted this fall by the Maine Inland Fisheries and Game Department.

Starting Wednesday, October 15, when deer hunting opens in the Northern zone of Maine, game biologists will man five deer hunter check stations. Next week end, two more will be opened, and finally, three more when the general season opens November 1.

The stations will be worked week ends and holidays during the season. The staff personnel will be supplemented on weekends with students taking wildlife courses at the University of Maine.

All hunters, whether or not they have been successful in shooting a deer, will be asked to pull off the highway for the brief interview. They will be asked such questions as where they hunted, how long, how many hunters in the party, etc.

Also, deer from successful hunters will be examined to obtain information on biological characteristics in an attempt to determine the status of deer populations throughout Maine. Various measurements will be made of both bucks and does for indications of range productivity.

Sex and age data will show the population structuring. All deer older than one and one-half years will have in incisor tooth removed and age determination will be made in the laboratory by counting annual rings in the base of the tooth. Any hunter wishing to know the age of his deer need only fill out a form and that information will be sent to him.

Department officials said that "hunter co-operation is essential if these stations are to be a success, and if the much-needed data that will help Maine biologists better manage the state's deer herd are to be collected."

Stations to open Wednesday will be at the rest area on Interstate 95 at Old Town, southbound; Greenville rest area, Route 15, south; Castle Hill picnic area, Route 163, east; Molunkus, Route 2, west; and Bingham, Route 201, south.

On the weekend, stations will be in operation at these points plus Kittery Toll Station, south; and Jackman point of entry, Route 201, north.

The other check points to open November 1 will be Aurora, Route 9, east; Farmington, Route 4, south; and Raymond, Route 35, south.

They will be open from early morning to dusk, and warning signs will be put out along the highway to indicate the location of the individual stations.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE

Public notice is hereby given that Louis E. Jorel, husband and wife, both of Caribou, in the County of Aroostook and State of Maine, by their mortgage deed dated May 12, 1966, and recorded in the Southern Aroostook Registry of Deeds in Vol. 973, Page 336, conveyed to the undersigned Aroostook County Federal Savings and Loan Association, a banking corporation organized and existing under the laws of the United States of America and having its principal place of business at Caribou, in the County of Aroostook and State of Maine.

The following described parcel of land being part of lot numbered three (3) in that part of Caribou formerly "H" Township, to-wit: Lots numbered eighty-six (86) and eighty-eight (88) in "Collins Extension Number Two to Pioneer Acres" surveyed for S. Wilson Collins and Elizabeth B. Collins in July, 1950, by A. C. McKay, Surveyor, plan of said survey being recorded in the Southern District of the Aroostook Registry of Deeds in Vol. 12, Page 151. Said lots numbered eighty-six (86) and eighty-eight (88) being each one hundred twenty (120) feet deep and lot eighty-six (86) being one hundred four and three-tenths (104.3) feet wide on Pioneer Avenue, so-called, and lot eighty-eight (88) being eighty (80) feet wide on Pioneer Avenue.

In accepting this deed the grantees covenant and agree for themselves, their heirs and assigns, that no building shall be erected on said lots except a dwelling house and private garage; that said lots shall be used solely for residential purposes; that no building shall be erected within thirty (30) feet of any street line; that no building shall be left unfinished or unpainted for an unreasonable length of time; that no building shall be used by more than two families; that no dwelling house shall be erected on said lots unless its cost, exclusive of the land, exceeds four thousand dollars ($4,000.00) and that no livestock or poultry shall be kept on said lot. And the grantees further agree for themselves, their heirs and assigns, that this covenant shall run with the land for the benefit of owners of the other lots in the said "Collins Extension Number Two to Pioneer Acres" and may be enforced by any owner of property in the said "Collins Extension Number Two to Pioneer Acres".

Being the same premises conveyed to Louis E. Jorel and Virginia A. Jorel by Warranty Deed of William J. Anderson and Mary Lee Anderson, dated May 12, 1966, and was recorded at the Southern Aroostook Registry of Deeds in Vol. 973, Page 334.

That the conditions of said mortgage are broken and still remain broken, now therefore, by reason of the breach of the conditions in said mortgage, the undersigned AROOSTOOK COUNTY FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION claims foreclosure and gives this public notice for the purpose of foreclosing said mortgage.

Dated at Caribou, Maine this 24th day of September, 1969.

As Seen From Here

Should a newspaper print only what the publication feels that it should put before the public or should it provide full coverage on matters concerning this very same public? Responsibility of informing the public is the only course of action that an objective publication can pursue.

Criticism of the news content of this or any publication is a matter of individual taste, but the facts of the situation should determine the treatment of any story that is put into print. Our job is not to censor or control news, but to present the facts of the matter if and when it is pertinent to a subject that is of paramount interest to the general public. It is very true that certain styles of news coverage can serve very little purpose and can accomplish only controversy that will not lead to beneficial results. In such a situation, it is up to the discretion of the publication to determine whether or not publicity is the proper treatment.

Nature's Ways

If dinosaurs had learned to snuggle into dens for a winter's sleep at this season, as New England's snakes now are doing, we might have some rather large dragons to contend with today.

Of course, no one really knows why dinosaurs disappeared 70 million years ago after reigning as earth's supreme animal for 130 million years. A suggested factor, however, involves a cooling of climate to which dinosaurs failed to adapt. The snakes, which were around at the end of the dinosaur period, made the adjustment by crawling into underground refuges and hibernating during those seasons in which the climate cools significantly.

Cramping the bulk of an elephant-sized body into a crevice apparently was more than dinosaurs could master. Snakes have it much easier—in fact, some modern snakes manage to crawl into anthills and survive the winter.

The proximity of choice wintering dens may be determined this season by the number of crushed snakes on a roadway. Such telltale evidence is rather common in Rhode Island and Connecticut but becomes sparser as one moves northward into northern New Hampshire and Maine. While

With our objectives clearly presented to remove any question of trying to impress an unjustifiable position on our readers, we present the following in an objective manner, using only the facts available.

The Houlton Police Department has been put under fire by certain members of the Houlton Town Council. Whether or not, this attack is justified must be determined by the Council, the public and this publication with complete regard for the facts of the matter and not with generally expressed opinions that can not be established as fact.

It is the opinion of this publication, based on facts as we know them, by observations we have made and by comments we have heard that the Houlton Police Department has done and is continuing to do a very creditable job.

Until the facts of the matter prove otherwise, the position of this paper is in support of Chief Donald Dow and his force.

Southern New England has at least 13 species of snakes, the number of species fades as one moves northward—just as the number of individual snakes also declines.

The reason that snakes head toward dens and hibernation at this season lies in the fact that they cannot control their body temperatures. As the air and ground cool, snakes become colder and sluggish. Although there seems to be no absolute temperature at which snakes in the wild become immobile, prolonged exposure to less than 50 degrees certainly stops activity.

To avoid death from freezing, snakes must find a snug den below the winter frost line. Since they have a problem in remaining active as ground temperatures drop in the autumn, they must travel toward the winter den long before temperatures become critical. However, it is to a snake's advantage to remain active and hunting as long as possible. There seems to be no adequate explanation of how a snake determines that the hour has arrived to start the annual trek toward a den—nor how young snakes that never have experienced a winter "know" that the time has come to find a den.

MAIN? MANE? MAINE?

Helen K. Atchison, Librarian
Cary Library

In 1937 the WPA (Works Progress Administration) under the general direction of the late Harry Hopkins set up a Federal Writer's Project, a brainchild designed to give employment to unemployed writers and editorial workers.

The result of the project was a series of guides to each of the United States, most of which were excellent. The Maine volume, called "Maine: A Guide 'Down East' ", was particularly good and has been the only reference of its kind for over thirty years.

With the sesquicentennial year approaching, Houghton Mifflin, publishers of the early volume, asked Ray Bearse, Vermont native, to revise and update the earlier Maine volume. Probably Mr. Bearse knows a lot about Vermont.

In the entry on Aroostook County the population of Houlton is given as 6,000 (in the 1937 edition it was 6,865), but at least Houlton is mentioned. Presque Isle didn't make it, although there is a description further on in the volume.

For some misguided reason the author decided to arrange his descriptions of the towns and cities in alphabetical order. This means that Houlton is preceded by HOPE, KNOX COUNTY, and followed by HOWE'S CORNER (SEE TURNER). Any tourist or stranger to the county would be bandy-fingered trying to find descriptions of the various towns he was passing through.

The same stranger would look a long time for the "Houlton Grange, with a store at Green and Grange Sts" which is described in the "What to See and Do" material on Houlton.

In 1937, according to the original guide book, the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad shipped nearly two million bushels of potatoes out of Houlton. Presently, according to the revised edition, the Bangor and Aroostook is still shipping two million bushels. Mr. Bearse also says "the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad today is one of the few U. S. railways showing a substantial profit."

At a recent meeting attended by forty-five librarians from here and there around the state, every librarian who had examined the book had found similar errors or evidences of lack of revision in the entries concerning her own area.

Fortunately the Maine League of Historical Societies and Museums is also revising the same guide, and rumor has it that the League's revision will not only be more accurate but will also be set up so that it can be used as a tourist guide.

It is only fair to add that Bearse tried to do his revision almost singlehanded an impossible task. The second revision is being compiled with the cooperation of more than a hundred historical societies in the state and therefore stands a better chance of presenting truly revised material.

Subscription TV In News

Subscription TV (STV) is back in the news again but "Fanny Hill" may seem like an old Charlie Chaplin movie before you get a chance to watch this current sex thriller on your home television screen.

This new box office TV service has been kicking around since the early 1960's, struggling to prove itself in the market place. It is probably the most controversial TV issue since the invention of video.

STV is now up for a new airing before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee which previously has held extensive hearings on the subject, collecting in the process 1,730 pages of hearing testimony, material occupying 27 feet of shelf space and some 25,000 comment pro and con on the subject.

The whole issue, meanwhile, is up for review in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia where a suit has been filed by the National Association of Theatre Owners and the Joint Committee Against Toll TV. The suit is an attempt to block a Federal Communications Commission ruling which gave the green light for over-the-air pay TV to become effective last June 12.

Arguments for and against STV go on ad infinitum. Supporters argue that the proposed system would offer a genuine public service that would in no way jeopardize TV broadcasting as it exists today. Opponents, on the other hand, claim that pay TV would be in a position to outbid conventional commercial TV for programs, with the result that the viewing public will have to pay for programs that they now see free.

Hearings Scheduled

Despite years of investigation and many hours of predominantly favorable testimony, individual members of Congress continue to challenge STV. It is for this reason generally that the new round of House hearings was scheduled. The committee is considering 21 separate bills against pay TV submitted in this session alone.

Zenith Radio Corporation, which announced in 1947 the development of the first Phonovision system after 15 years of research, makes these arguments on why STV should be approved.

1. It is a system which permits the American public to decide if it wants a new service that is in the best interest of the free enterprise system. Unless STV offers a better product which the public is willing to pay for it will fail. On one has to subscribe to STV. It is somewhat like a second car in the family. It's your choice.

2. STV, as outlined by the FCC, will not replace commercial TV, nor will it try to siphon away its programs. It would offer at least 28 hours of additional commercial or public service programming in each of its markets.

A nationwide poll conducted by a well-known opinion-gathering organization shows that 43 per cent of all persons interviewed would like to give it a try. One of every three of the respondents said they consider conventional TV "pretty good" or "excellent." While one in four felt TV is "poor" and almost nine out of 10 support approval of pay television.

Poll Shows Favorable

Some opponents believe pay TV would outbid conventional TV for sports events and that viewers would have to pay for seeing such events as the World Series, the Rose Bowl or the Super Bowl. But in authorizing the system the Federal Communications Commission ruled that there could be no siphoning off of programs of this type for pay TV. In general, these rules provide that sports events which have been regularly seen on conventional television in a community during the two years preceding proposed pay TV broadcast of the events may not be shown over a pay TV station in that community.

The same applies to old movies which are capturing the interest of more and more television viewers. Under the FCC rules, feature films shown on pay TV must not have been released in theaters more than two years before pay TV showing.

Because of the long delays so far experienced, by the time you have to pay to watch the New York Jets in the Super Bowl, Joe Namath's beard may be gray and he'll be pointing out plays to his grandchildren.

You're Cornered

The most recent political rhubarb now stewing in Aroostook is centered around the situation of financing the County government. Many of the residents of this County were not even aware that the finances needed to operate the second largest county budget in the State were perhaps not going to last through the current fiscal year. In fact, inquiries among many of our citizens, has led us to believe that there is very little interest in just what the situation is at the County Court House and by virtue of that disinterest, little do they care who, if anyone, is responsible for the situation being as it is.

Houlton will not apparently be scheduled as a flight stop by Executive Airlines in the event that present plans for extending their coverage of the State transpire. The requirement for a minimum of 10 passengers daily would not at this time cause most to become optimistic that there will be change in the plans of the airlines in the near future. At this time it appears that the only means of increasing the passenger possibilities at the local airport would be the inducement of a Canadian airlines to use the customs clearing facilities present here for the purposes of scheduling flights into the U. S. and connect with domestic airlines.

The deer hunting season for this area opens today. The color for the day and for the entire season should be orange. The fluorescent orange collared hats and garments worn by hunters is one of the best means of prevention in making the sorry mistake of a hunter being a deer that this writer is aware of at this time. Happy hunting and if you will pardon the pun, don't be color blind.

Sitting in as guest editor of the Pioneer Times for the past two weeks while publisher Marshall Hammond has been on special assignment has been most enjoyable. It has always been a pleasure in working with this publication and its crew, which this writer has to rate as A-1.

Electoral Reform

By Bert Mills

Washington, D. C. -- Congress has earned few accolades for its performance this year but if it does nothing more than complete the half-finished task of passing a Constitutional amendment to reform the system by which we elect our President, it will have earned a high place in history.

Electoral reform has been sought for most of the nation's history. As far back as 1823, Thomas Jefferson called the electoral system "the most dangerous blot on our Constitution." Recent national polls have shown about 80 per cent of the people favor a direct popular vote for President.

Recently the House debated the vote reform issue for eight days, concluding that the Electoral College should be scrapped in favor of a direct vote. Two other reform plans were considered and rejected during the debate but the big surprise was the final vote -- 339 to 70, a margin of nearly five to one.

Congress cannot change the Constitution simply by passing a law. A proposed amendment to the Constitution requires a two-thirds vote by both the House and Senate, plus ratification by three-fourths of the states. So there remains a long road ahead but the first big step has been taken by the House.

President Surprised

President Nixon was among those who was pleasantly surprised by the overwhelming vote in the House. He had not believed it possible that Congress would back a direct vote system. In a special message last February, he favored a proportioned distribution method, as the least controversial reform which seemed to have the best chance of adoption.

But in the light of the House action, the President has endorsed the method voted by the House and urged the Senate to concur. He warned: "It is clear that unless the Senate follows the lead of the House, all opportunity for reform will be lost this year and possibly for years to come."

"Accordingly," he added, "because the ultimate goal of electoral reform must prevail over differences as to how best to achieve that goal, I endorse the direct election approach and urge the Senate also to adopt it." He warned that "contrary views are now a luxury" and that the need for reform "should be our controlling consideration."

Speed is important because when Congress agrees on the terms of a prospective 26th Amendment, 50 state legislatures must act. Even if the Senate concurs in the House action this year, there would be little time for 39 states to adopt the amendment in time for the 1972 Presidential election. Some legislatures will not even meet until 1971.

Committee Holds Key

Next battleground for the Constitutional amendment is the Senate Judiciary Committee. This is one of the busiest committees in Congress and does not act in haste on major matters. It is now pondering the Supreme Court nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth.

Citizens anxious for electoral reform could improve the chance for Senate action this year if they would write their Senators, endorsing H. J. Res. 681, the House-passed resolution to amend the Constitution to require direct election of the President and abolish the Electoral College.

If there is the strong public sentiment for vote reform, it is particularly important that Judiciary Committee members get the word from back home. The Chairman is Sen. James O. Eastland (D., Miss.) and the ranking minority member Sen. Roman L. Hruska (R., Neb.). If Congressional action is not completed this year, all chance for final adoption in time for the 1972 election will disappear.

Sodality Plans Fall Bazaar At Regular Meeting

SHERMAN Various committee members were appointed recently at a regular session of St. Joseph's Sodality Council. Mrs. Mae McLellan conducted the meeting when the following were appointed: Apostolic Committee, Marguerite Rush, Viola Bragg and Vera McDonald; Eucharistic, Minnie Stubbs, Eljah Merry and Laura Sirois; social life, Mae McLellan, Isabelle McAvoy and Terlie St. Germaine; Our Lady's Hilda Derosie, Mrs. Ann Hicks and Freda Stubbs; publicity, Mary Cox, Tina Stevens and Rita Qualey; Catholic truth, Margaret Davis, Margaret Duffy and Sandra Albert.

The calendar for the year for refreshments was presented and accepted. A topic of discussion was the annual fall Bazaar scheduled for November 9 and 10, under the joint sponsorship of St. Benedict's Sodality of Benedicta and St. Joseph's Sodality of Sherman Station. Turkey and spaghetti suppers are planned, and St. Joseph's will have a fancy work booth with Mrs. Mae McLellan as chairman, assisted by Minnie Stubbs, Evelyn McDonald and Glenda Gadois.

The Rev. Leonard Frechette discussed mutual program objectives concentrating on one aspect of the Family Affairs Commission projects. He suggested that study clubs concentrate on the Ecumenical concept on the local level.

Refreshments were served with Margaret Davis and Freda Stubbs as chairmen. The next regular meeting is scheduled for November 3.

Patten Project Credited With Being A Model Plan

Patten leaders recently gathered at the town office to accept copies of a recently completed development plan for their community. Representing the joint efforts of several local area agencies, the Patten Plan is the model of an efficient new system of providing comprehensive plans for small communities.

A copy of the plan has been submitted to the Department of Housing & Urban Development for their evaluation. The approach taken and the results attained in this project have been praised already. These encouraging signs have convinced the local agencies involved to pursue the development of plans for additional small communities in the region. This will be accomplished on a limited basis until such time as funding is approved for the production of as many as ten such plans yearly.

There are two major facets of the plan that a small community should consider it is interested in having such a plan accomplished. First, a healthy measure of involvement is required of the community leaders. The town manager, selectmen, and planning board members in Patten, for example, contributed much time to preparation of the plan and are now evaluating some 20 problems and recommendations made in the plan to establish priorities.

Second, the participating agencies will remain at the disposal of the town for any assistance they can give in implementing courses of work recommended in the plan or by town officials. In Patten, Harry Whitney, Cooperative Extension Service agent for RC&D Community Resource Development interests, is serving as a liaison between the town and the agencies for continued work in planning. For additional information, communities interested in having such a plan developed for them are urged to contact James A. Barresi, executive director of the Northern Maine Regional Planning Commission in Presque Isle.

Other agencies participating in the preparation of the Patten Plan were: the St. John Aroostook Resource Conservation & Development Project, the Maine Forestry Department, the Cooperative Extension Service, and the Southern Aroostook Soil & Water Conservation District. The water & sewer system portion of the study was accomplished by the Edward C. Jordan Company.

Joy Is Named New Hospital Administrator

Henry Joy

On Friday evening at a special meeting of the board of trustees of Milliken Memorial Hospital, chairman Rodney Bowers, announced the selection of Henry Joy from the list of applicants for the position of administrator of the hospital.

At present Joy is the teaching principal of Island Falls High School in his seventh year. He has a BA degree in mathematics and science, graduating in 1963 from Ricker College. He also has several postgraduate courses including continuing education courses at the University of Maine. He will assume his new duties in approximately a month.

This announcement precedes a special meeting to be held at the fire station in Island Falls on Thursday, October 16th at 8 p.m., at which time selectmen and managers of 14 towns and plantations of Southern Aroostook and Northern Penobscot counties will meet to consider ways and means of making an acceleration of the formation of Hospital District No. 3 as authorized by the Maine State legislature at its last session.

The district is designed as a means of improving health care of the citizens of these communities by creating a complete health complex for the above area, to provide an acute hospital bed facility, extended care facility, nursing home facility, and possibly a senior citizens community, following the objective set up by the U. S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare.

It is also planned that the present hospital facilities will be turned over to the newly formed district, if and when needed.

Ronald Martin, present administrator at the hospital, has accepted a similar position at the Plummer Memorial Hospital at Dexter. He has been at the Milliken Memorial hospital for over four years.

The 1970 VW will stay ugly longer.

Just what hath Volkswagen wrought this year?
A longer-lasting engine, that's what.
It's more powerful than the old engine. (Top speed: 81 mph vs. 78 mph.)

It has better acceleration.
But most important, it doesn't have to work as hard to get you where you're going.

Thus, according to every calculation known to man, it will last even longer.

And just to make sure the engine and every other VW part leads a long, happy life, we have another surprise for 1970:

The Volkswagen Diagnostic Checkup. Now before the name scares you away, listen to what it is:
VW Diagnosis is an exclusive service checkup by specially trained technicians using specially made diagnostic equipment. The equipment is faster and more thorough than any mechanic alive. It's so advanced, it can actually tell you you have a problem early, before it becomes a real problem.

For instance, let's say the resistance in one of your spark plug wires is too high.
Nothing serious, but it could reduce your gas mileage and eventually foul up your spark plugs.

During a Diagnostic Checkup, our equipment can find and we can fix this problem in a matter of minutes.

When you buy a new VW, you're entitled to four of these advanced checkups free.

What could be a better deal than that?
You buy a bug.
We take care of the bugs.
